Basic Support for Non-Critical Environments

Our cohesive global support processes ensure a consistent experience when interacting with our call centers or when issues are escalated. Our baseline services are the foundation of Grass Valley Support Agreements, providing global access to call centers, technical phone support, parts exchange and software updates.

The Basic Support Agreement focuses on Grass Valley cameras, production switchers and routing switchers located in non-critical environments, where rapid response is not necessary and your priority is access to parts replacement and software updates. Adding to the service levels provided by our standard warranty, the Basic Support Agreement adds response time commitments. Our global call center is available 9x5 and will respond within 24 hours. However, for critical cases, the call center is always available 24x7 and next business day advance parts exchange is also available.

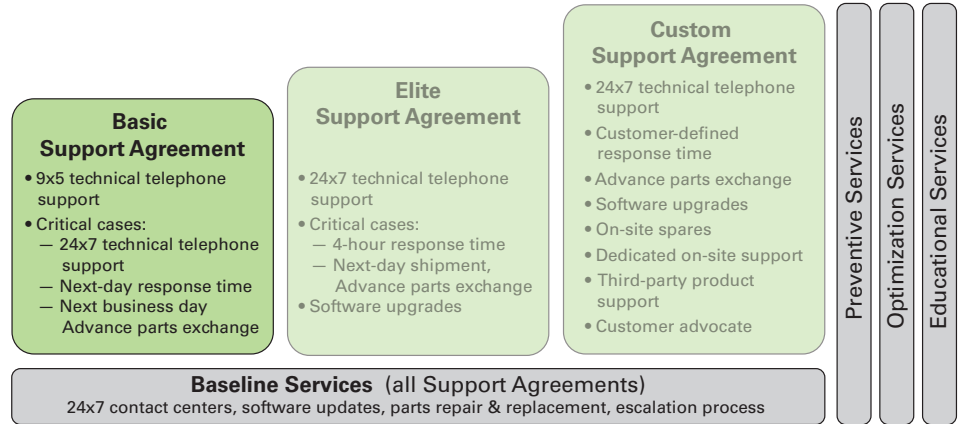

For more critical support environments, Grass Valley offers Elite Support Agreements and Custom Support Agreements.

While each level of support offered by Grass Valley is designed to meet your specific needs, we also offer additional services to help you maximize your operation. Our suite of Preventative, Optimization and Educational Services provides you with a variety of features and options to ensure operational and financial efficiency, and risk mitigation.
